ADDISON COUNTY COURT

Four Divorce Suits the Last Business Transacted.

The June term of the Addison County court came to an end last Friday forenoon. Work had lagged somewhat during the two preceding days, but all of the business ready to be brought on was cleaned up in good shape, in spite of broiling weather.

The last civil case to come before the court was Edith B. Crockett and George W. Crockett vs. Allan Calhoun, an ejectment suit which had been transferred from the general docket to the court calendar. The Crocketts claimed to own 72 feet of a 100-foot lot which Allan Calhoun of this town purchased a couple of years ago from the Meehan property on the shore of Lake Dunmore in Salisbury, and for which Mr. Calhoun paid $1000. Judgment was given Thursday evening in favor of the defendant and the plaintiffs were ordered to pay Mr. Calhoun's costs. E. S. Marsh of Brandon had charge of the plaintiffs' case and L. C. Russell of Middlebury represented the defendant.

Four divorce cases were heard during the closing days. These were:

Viola Fletcher vs. Walter A. S. Fletcher. This case came down from Ripton where they lived together until the husband departed for parts unknown. This petition was brought on the ground of wilful desertion and the bill was promptly granted on that ground, while the custody of the minor children was decreed to the petitioner. Button and Sturtevant had charge of the case for the petitioner.

Emma M. Tatrow vs. Lewis J. Tatrow was the next case to be heard. This case came from Lincoln and the cause alleged was adultery. The court thought the case abundantly proven and the bill was granted at the close of an hour's hearing. The custody of the minor child was decreed to the petitioner and she was also decreed alimony in accordance with the stipulations on file. Button and Sturtevant were the counsel for the petitioner and M. C. Taft of Bristol was the attorney for the husband, but did not make any contest in court. The cross-bill filed by the husband was dismissed.

Alstine A. Briggs vs. Gertrude A. Briggs came next. This case came over the mountain from Granville, where the man has been for several years a prosperous farmer and business man, and the cause set up was adultery. At the June term a year ago the suit for divorce of the wife against the husband, on the ground of intolerable severity, and with a prayer for alimony, was dismissed after a spirited trial lasting several days. At the same term there appeared on the jury calendar the case of Alstine A. Briggs vs. George Beeman, a Lake Placid, N. Y., man, in which the plaintiff sued to recover damages for the alienation of his wife's affections. This suit was settled out of court by the payment of $800 by the defendant to the plaintiff.

In the case at bar the court found that Mr. Briggs had amply made out his claims and the bill was forthwith granted on the ground set up. Messrs. Button and Sturtevant also represented the petitioner in this case and there was no appearance for the defense.

One more divorce case was started Friday forenoon. This was Charles Doner vs. Addie Doner, and the grounds alleged were desertion and adultery. This couple were married in Middlebury sixteen years ago this month. They lived first in this town, then for some years in Leicester, where the petitioner is now located. Several years ago Mrs. Doner left her husband and took with her their boy, now 15 years old, and settled in Burlington. It took only half an hour to hear this petition and the bill was granted on the adultery charge, the custody of the boy being granted to the father. Mr. Russell conducted the case in behalf of the petitioner and no defense was put in for the woman.

This completed the cases ready for trial at this time, and under the direction of the court Sheriff Smith declared the June term of the Addison County Court and Court of Chancery adjourned without day.

C. C. CHAFFEE SUICIDES.

Calvin C. Chaffee, aged 70, committed suicide at 3:30 this morning by shooting himself through the heart, at his home in New Haven. Despondency is supposed to be the cause of his act. He is survived by a wife and several children. The funeral will be held at his late home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the interment will be in New Haven Street cemetery.

OLD LANDMARK SOLD.

Judge John E. Weeds has purchased the old Severance place on Pleasant street for W. H. Porter of New York city. The property has been owned the past few years by H. W. Brewster. Possession will be given August 1.

A DEFINITE CALL FOR HELP.

Issued by the Y. M. C. A. of Vermont.

An article in the Burlington Free Press of July 11 makes clear a need on the Mexican border that the State committee of the Young Men's Christian Association is trying to meet. The Register heartily endorses the appeal that has been sent out, and trusts that a substantial sum, in however small amounts, may be sent to Chairman W. J. Van Patten or Treasurer Floyd L. North at Burlington. The Addison County Association will gladly forward to Chaplain Thomas all magazines that the people of this vicinity will contribute in response to his request, and any periodicals left at the Register office will be started promptly toward their destination. In this connection, it is pleasant to note that the letter of Mr. Henry Chapman published in the Register of July 7 had borne fruit even before the State call for help was issued, the people of East Middlebury having interested themselves in a contribution toward defraying the expenses of Ralph P. Shedd, a graduate of Middlebury College at the recent Commencement, who has volunteered, with Mr. Chapman, for Y. M. C. A. service on the border. Mr. Shedd had endeared himself to the people of that vicinity because of faithful deputization work as a college student during the past two years, and their desire to meet a part of his expenses is a very practical evidence of their regard. The Free Press article follows:

When the Vermont Regiment started for Texas, State Secretary Clark wrote the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., volunteering to go to the border of Mexico for service work in September as soon as Camp Abnaki is closed. The committee replied at once and accepted the application. But last week the following telegram was received from F. S. Brockman, the associate general secretary of the international committee:

New York City, July 6, 1916.

Byron N. Clark,

171 Church Street,
Burlington, Vt.

Information of the past few days reveals a fact that even although no war with Mexico is imminent, moral peril to thousands of troops on the border demands immediate and united efforts of the association brotherhood. War department's fullest co-operation has been secured. Plans for 20 association centers necessitating 1,000 secretaries approved. Acting Senior Secretary Reader of army and navy department leaves for the front to-day.

All departments of the international committee co-operating with the army and navy department in this effort, while war department regulations necessitate administration with board of work by the international committee, the committee cannot carry the burden alone. We earnestly call upon you to secure and finance men to work with your troops on the border. Letter follows. Kindly wire your plans.

F. S. BROCKMAN.

On Saturday Secretary Clark received the following telegram:

Byron N. Clark,

Camp Abnaki, North Hero, Vt.

May be here months. Men cannot leave camp evenings. Can you send recreation tent and equipment? Good man also acceptable and would be of great help. Men have nothing to do when off duty. Government does not provide. Answer to-day if possible, as we must do something quick. Ask the people to send me popular magazines quick.

THOMAS, Chaplain.

Mr. Clark wired Chaplain Thomas: "Telegram received. Will give definite answer in few days. Already have social service tent and secretary at State reservation for recruits."

The State committee of the Y. M. C. A. is anxious to do all it can for the Vermont regiment, but with the heavy expenses already incurred at Camp Abnaki and for the work being done at the State reservation, with the large tent in charge of Harry H. Brown, it has not the means at hand for sending a secretary and outfit to Texas for an indefinite period.

Therefore, the committee makes this special appeal to the people of the State in behalf of the soldier boys at the front. Colonel Reeves, Chaplain Thomas, the officers and the men are earnestly asking for this particular service. The State committee will do the work. Will the patriotic people of the State respond?

The State committee earnestly asks for help from all patriotic societies, boards of trade, fraternal lodges, clubs, associations and individuals, and will send the secretary and outfit as quickly as the means can be secured. Checks should be sent to Chairman W. J. Van Patten or Treasurer Floyd L. North, Burlington. Every contribution, large or small, will be acknowledged, and every cent will be used for this express purpose.

The plan will include a large tent, where the men can gather when off duty to read, write letters home, play games, find fellowship and help in many ways, which they thoroughly appreciate. The estimated expense for three months will include carfare, rent or purchase of tent, equipment, stationery, etc., about $600. Will Vermont raise this money for the social and moral welfare of its regiment?

Chaplain Thomas' appeal for popular magazines should receive a quick response.

LECTURE BY PROFESSOR H. P. WILLIAMSON DE VISME.

This evening (Friday) at eight o'clock in the social hall at Pearsons Professor H. P. Williamson de Visme will talk on "A Village in Northern France." The talk will be given in English, and is open to all members of the Summer School and friends of Professor de Visme in the village who may be interested to hear his interesting narrative of conditions in France.

SIDEWALK FUND.

Glory be! The struggle is over. We are to have the new cement walk to West cemetery. The last dollar has been subscribed. Several very generous subscriptions saved what, for a time, seemed a lost cause. The final contribution, which closed the gap, was most welcome. It was to cover the balance needed. In addition to the contributors, who should have the gratitude of the entire community for securing the walk, two people deserve special mention. These are Prof. D. L. Robinson and Mr. John Manney. Each took a subscription paper and, by a few hours work, secured contributions which prevented the whole scheme from going by the board. Collections will be made soon.
